

Dear Birthparent(s),

Thank you for taking this brave step. We realize this choice is not only difficult, but heart-wrenching, and we can confidently assure you this child will receive all the love and care any two people can give.

We are willing to work with you to ensure that your level of involvement with the child is comfortable and supportive.

We met in 2001, and were married in a traditional Catholic wedding in the spring of 2004. We knew before we married that we would not be able to have a child and that our family would be built through adoption.

Adam is reserved and patient. He is a fixer and loves to work on projects at home. He enjoys spending time with his family and never misses the chance to get together. He is a computer technician at a local college.

Emily is a motherly person by nature and is able to extend that to everyone she meets. She is outgoing and fun loving. She has a strong relationship with her family and a deep sense of faith. She currently works with the public and enjoys the freedom that she brings to people's lives through her work with public transportation.

We recently adopted a puppy from the Humane Society. She is a black Labrador named Izzy.

We live in a tree-lined neighborhood where children are an integral part of the community. Our home has plenty of room for us to grow in. We look forward to sharing our lives and our home with a child. We want to see the world through their eyes and experience all the joys that this life has to offer.

Thank you for your consideration,

Adam and Emily
